Stama Winery: is currently located in the Vino Piazza. The piazza was once a co-op winery for the farmers in the 40s. Their tasting room is in what used to be the boiler room for making brandy. It is like being inside a huge distill when you come taste with us. Vino Piazza is a very historical place that takes you back in time with the feeling of a European Village.

Van Ruiten Winery: The Van Ruiten Family Winery is located mid-way between the Sierra Foothills and the San Francisco Bay. The estate vineyards, benefit from the ideal climate influenced by the cool afternoon breezes of the San Joaquin Delta.

Watts Winery is a beautiful and friendly boutique winery, with water fountains and a creek, trees, picnicking, in the heart of Lodi wine country that specializes in unique Reds, Chardonnay and Dessert wines
